

IT IS DIFFICULT to come down to earth this week after floating in the stratosphere with last week's "progress in-action" edition.

Thank you all for your kind words and the many compliments received.

We, too, were proud of the product.

Many of you have asked for extra copies. We will be happy to oblige as long as the supply holds out. And we do have a fair supply on hand.

Unfortunately we cannot rest on our laurels. There happens to be 52 issues each year that our joint must produce.

ERRORS in the last week's issue, which was twice the size of our normal production, were held to a minimum, we are happy to report.

There were a couple, of course.

Were you expecting perfection?

One that comes to mind was in the City Council story. The story reported that Councilman Ed Rogers, a professor of political science at San Jose State, was on sabbatical leave and was spending five months in Latin America. He thus would miss the council meetings in February.

OBVIOUSLY, if Ed was to be gone for five months, he would miss more than the February meetings.

Dr. Rogers will only be gone for five weeks -- not months.

In another item, the headline on a story reported that "Mrs. Franker" had been appointed to the Parks and Recreation Commission.

But the story reported that Mrs. Margaret Fraker had been appointed.

It is Fraker, not Franker. Sorry, Mrs. Fraker.

But all in all the issue was quite "clean". Maybe it was because we tried harder.

IT WAS A TIGHT schedule under which the staff was operating. But it was fun, in a sort of hard-pressed way, to make all the pieces fit into place.

There were cases where catching up with the regular schedule presented a problem in logistics.

Last week's "on the limb" column, for example, was written on Sunday in the kitchen in the home of our friends, the George Hills, in Orinda where we were guests at a birthday party.

It was written as the gals were bustling around the stove, adding this and that to whatever was cooking at the time.

After we had completed the column, we had to edit it carefully to see that we had not inserted such items as "pinch of salt and a pinch of pepper" right in the midst of some earth-shaking paragraph about the town.

Of course there are some of you who would say that such items might have improved the contents of the col-

Annexation to Campbell starts

City settles drive-in theater case

Campbell's year-long "war" to defend its borders from the encroachment of a drive-in theater into its "sphere" ended Monday night at the City Council meeting with the theater winning the final battle.

By a 3-1 vote (Homer Hyde dissenting and Ed Rogers absent), the City Council ratified the conditions for a settlement of the pending litigation between the city and Syufy Enterprises. Involved is the near-completed drive-in theater now in county territory off Union Ave., adjacent to the freeway.

Favoring the settlement that had been hammered out in negotiation sessions with the theater owners were Mayor Ralph Doetsch and Councilmen Bill Smeed and Charlie Rose.

ANNEXATION
One of the major conditions of the settlement is that all property owned by the theater will be annexed to the City of Campbell. The permits to construct the theater were issued by the county. Under the county (M-1) zoning, a drive-in theater is allowed with a use permit. Campbell's (M-1) zoning prohibits such an operation.

Thus the curtain dropped Monday on the "Case of the unwanted drive-in" after a 12-months frustrating and single-handed struggle by Campbell to prevent it.

A large audience jammed the council chambers on Monday night to hear City Attorney Joe Bonacina explain the terms of the "armistice" that ended the war.

UNPOPULAR
But the terms of the settlement did not meet favor with a large delegation of residents of Central Park Dr. and Highland Dr. who were present at the meeting.

The residents, with Anthony J. Sota, 2222

Central Park Dr., as their spokesman, also presented a petition with 152 signatures protesting the drive-in being allowed and urging Campbell to continue its fight.

In a prepared statement, Sota told the council that his group was surprised and shocked to think that Campbell would even think of compromising. No residents within

Alice Ave. residents win zoning battle

Residents of Alice Ave. won their battle Monday night at the City Council meeting to prevent a used car operation locating at Winchester Blvd. and Alice Ave.

But the problem of what to do with the substandard lot is still with the city.

In denying the plans of Ken Norton for the used-car operation at that location, the council recognized that the size and location of the lot presented a real problem in finding any practical use for it.

The action by the council Monday night officially denied the P-D (planned development) zoning for the lot in question which would have allowed the used car business.

The council's 4-0 vote in effect overruled the Planning Commission recommendation which had originally approved the plans. The commissioners had stood firm when the council had referred the matter back to them after the Alice Ave. residents had protested. The residents had not protested at the first commission hearing.

A majority of the council, in referring the matter to the commission, had suggested that the city should

Everyone wants ped overpass BUT how to get $$$ is the problem

Everyone was in agreement, councilmen, city staff and anxious parents, Monday night at the City Council meeting that crossing San Tomas Expressway is a hazardous undertaking, especially for kids.

And something should be done about it.

But it took a while to figure out at the meeting that everyone was on the same side.

Especially there was unanimity in opinion that a pedestrian overpass over the expressway near Rincon Ave. was an eventual necessity.

But then there was a little matter of some 50,000 bucks for half the cost that would have to be raised for overpass by the city, school district, San Jose or assessment district. Provided, of course, that the county Transportation Policy Committee would pick up the other half of the tab.

Involved also in a sort of preliminary skirmish was the pedestrian hazard at Campbell Ave. and the expressway. The city has provided a crossing guard but there had been wistful thinking on the part

First Congress draws 200 citizens

More than 200 persons turned out for Campbell's first Congress For Community Progress at West Valley College Monday.

Following registration and coffee, chairman Larry Hill welcomed the participants and introduced guests and panel members.

A colored slide presentation "A Stranger Looks At Campbell" was made by William Siden, community resources analyst for PG&E.

Siden took his audience, via pictures, through the streets of their town, highlighting both pleasant and distasteful scenes.

Following Siden's presentation the seven panel discussion groups attracted audiences of 25 to 35 active participants.

At noon the Congress adjourned to Campbell High School cafeteria for lunch.

In his address, Gubser commended the community for staging the Congress. He also stressed the importance of settling issues on the proper governmental level, as Campbell was doing. The answer cannot always be found in Washington, Gubser emphasized.

Following Gubser's talk, each panel chairman presented the recommendations of his specific panel. Mimeographed copies of the recommendations were presented to all those in attendance before the close of the meeting.

Representing traffic and transportation was John Morgan, Campbell Police Chief. For youth opportunity, recommendations were made by Robert Culp, principal, Campbell High School.

E.M. (Doc) Arends, Campbell Lumber Co., was moderator for the industrial and commercial development panel. Health and welfare was Mrs. Helen Andres.

Rodney Heft, A.I.A., spoke for Campbell's improved image and Bob Sorensen, assistant executive, Santa Clara County, moderated the education panel.

Local governmental service recommendations were made by Neal Royer, superintendent, Campbell Union School District.

SEVEN OF 'EM--Here are the seven panel discussion groups in action at Campbell's first Congress for Community Progress, sponsored by the Cham-

BY SALLY HOWE

You may have spent Monday morning washing clothes. But I didn't.

Yeah, I am rather pleased with myself. Or, if the truth were known, rather proud of YOU.

Monday was Campbell's first Congress for Community Progress. And watch out world, here we come!

Would you believe... that Campbell isn't dead?

That there are a heck of a lot of brainy people in this community with a lot of good ideas which they're willing to put forth to help this here little old town?

The occasion was Campbell's first Congress for Community Progress, an impressive sounding title, to be sure.

Seven panels dealing with various aspects of the living city dissected and analyzed everything from schools to streets, from trees to traffic jams.

My first reaction to the Congress was "Oh, boy, here they are; the same people making the same old pitches for their same old causes again."

I was wrong. To begin with, if they were the same old crowd, they were wearing different hats and making an honest appraisal of themselves and their town.

Unhampered by a formal atmosphere, they spoke freely about what the town needed. In the four of the seven total panels which I hopped between, there was none of the usual back-patting of government or services.

From the morning pause during the pledge of allegiance (you know, where the group tells its age by saying... "one nation, pause, under God...") to the healthy wording of the image panel's rec-

Drive-in dilemma

One of the most difficult decisions ever to face a Campbell City Council in the history of this city concerns the controversial issue of the drive-in theater that is virtually completed just off Union Ave.

And the tragic part of the situation is that no matter what decision that the City Council makes, that decision will be subjected to intense criticisms.

There is no easy answer but there are a number of alternatives. Each alternative, however, is at best an unsatisfactory way out of a sticky situation.

We sympathize with the councilmen who are riding the horns of this drive-in dilemma. But sympathy is all we can offer. We don't have the perfect solution either to this vexing problem.

The basic cause of the problem is, of course, the lack of uniformity between city and county zoning regulations.

But, even if we know the cause, this still does not help the current situation.

The drive-in theater has been constructed on a parcel of land off Union Ave. adjacent to the freeway that is in unincorporated territory and thus under county jurisdiction.

The area virtually surrounding the parcel is within the city limits of Campbell and thus is under the City of Campbell jurisdiction.

The land on which the theater has been constructed is zoned by the county as M-1 (light manufacturing) and that is the same zoning that is in effect on the land within the city limits of Campbell adjacent to it.

But county M-1 zoning allows a drive-in theater with the issuance of a use permit.

But under the city's M-1 zoning, a drive-in theater is not allowed.

Despite this city's protests, county authorities approved the necessary use and building permits for the construction of the drive-in theater.

Thwarted at the county level, the City of Campbell took the theater owners to court on the basis that a drive-in theater must have access and egress are part of the overall theater operation.

The access to the theater are in territory under this city's jurisdiction. Campbell contended that this could not be allowed under the city's ordinances.

The theater people were notified that Campbell was going to contest the theater in court but they continued with the construction in county territory.

Eventually the court agreed with Campbell's contention in the judge's preliminary ruling.

So there sits a drive-in theater, representing an investment of thousands and thousands of dollars, but patrons can't see the show. They can't get to it.

Campbell can stand pat. The theater people can continue with the litigation with the hope that another judge will see things in a different legal light.

The theater owners can also contend that Campbell's attitude has been costly to them and ask for damages, also through court proceedings.

Obviously litigation at any level is an expensive undertaking for an individual, a corporation or a city.

This city has already expended a great deal of money in the preliminary court battle.

One of the questions most apparent at this time then is how far should a City Council go in these extra legal expenditures to fight a situation that has so many ramifications involving definitions of proper zoning, etc.

Can this city afford these extra expenses in face of so many other uses the taxpayers' money can be put to?

Then there is another obvious question.

Can a common ground be found where the city and the theater people can negotiate their differences and arrive at a settlement that would eliminate costly litigation?

We admit that at first glance the city and the theater appear far apart both in concept and philosophy.

On the other hand, the theater does exist at the present time.

It's there. Period.

True under the preliminary judgment, patrons can't get to it.

But the screens are up; the concession stands are constructed; the area is paved and the individual car installations are there.

Preliminary negotiations have indicated that the theater owners would be willing to annex to Campbell and thus come under Campbell control. However, Campbell then would have to modify its zoning ordinance to allow a drive-in theater in that particular zone.

Campbell, under this plan, could levy other conditions with respect to the overall appearance and such factors.

We have not changed our basic attitude of opposition to the drive-in theater but we concede that Campbell has a real problem in continuing to fight it.

Therefore, making the best of a bad situation may be the right way. But we still don't have to like it.

IT WOULD HAVE APPEARED probably to the average person watching the regular staff put out a paper that was twice the usual size that things were pretty confused at the plant. More so than usual, that is.

But the staff took things pretty much in stride.

But there were a number of minor crises.

Take the time, for example, when the case for our glasses disappeared.

Action at the office came to a grinding halt while we all hunted.

After retracing our steps, they were finally found nicely tucked away in one of the files we had been using a short time before.

The file was not marked "eye-glasses case" or we might have found 'em sooner.

SOME TIME AGO it was mentioned in this column that, come next June, the law school at the University of Santa Clara was going to award its grads the degree of "J.D." which stands for Juris Doctor, replacing the present degree of "LL.B.", Bachelor of Laws.

Thus technically and educationally, each law school grad could then be called "doctor".

The degree of "J.D." will be also awarded retroactively on all alumni who had received the LL.B.

That would mean, we noted that Councilman Bill Smeed would become "Dr." as would two former mayors of the town, Dick Morton and John M. Chargin, and also City Attorney Joe Bonacina.

We failed to mention that another prominent citizen of our city, former C. of C. Prexy Jack Dawson, would also be entitled to the same honor.

We don't know how we missed that, especially when one figures that Dawson's initials are J.D....

But we hope he doesn't.

The legal language is confusing enough now without that added touch.

the city limits of Campbell were represented on the petition. The majority either live in San Jose or unincorporated territory. They had received no support either from San Jose or the county in their protests.

In the early stages of the drive-in battle, when Campbell was protesting the issuance of the necessary permits on the county level, Campbell sought support from the City of San Jose in its fight.

More than 200 residents of San Jose live in areas adjacent to the to the theater and a petition by these residents was filed with San Jose at the time.

But San Jose turned a deaf ear to the plea and Campbell was forced to go it alone.

SUMMARIZES

In City Attorney Bonacina's summation of the situation, he traced the struggle from the beginning to the end, including the court battle in which Campbell won the preliminary round when the judge ruled that the access roads under Campbell's jurisdiction were part of the overall theater operation.

This preliminary ruling in effect prohibits patrons from attending the shows, although the screens and concession stand and other installations were completed.

Bonacina also explained the conditions of the settlement that had been agreed upon in meetings with the city council, its city attorney and Special Counsel Richard Morton and the theater operators represented by Michael DiLeonardo, her garage. But she realizes the neighbors haven't appreciated this.

Other parents must be faced with similar problems, she points out, because of the rash of these groups that have sprung up all over the place.

She admits they are loud but asks our help in trying to find a place for the youngsters where they can be tolerated.

Have you any suggestions?

We agree with Mrs. Carroll, as rough as these groups may be on your eardrums, this activity is far better than many others that seem to be in fashion, unfortunately, among the younger set today.

of city officials that, if the fence and sidewalk were moved back, maybe the crossing guard could be eliminated.

Leading the attack for the parents were Mrs. Jeannie L. Kennedy, 2248 Montezuma; Mrs. Anne Stoops, 824 Bucknall Rd.; Ken Sanders, 75 Hunt Way; and Mrs. June Bothman, 2230 Montezuma.

They were concerned about the city pulling off the crossing guard without any warning. They were informed by the council, if this occurred at least two weeks notice would be given and it wouldn't be done if a hazard still existed.

Mrs. Kennedy also indicated that the city did not seem to be coordinating its efforts for the overpass with the other agencies involved. Bill Wren, public works director, in a report to the council pinpointed the steps that must be taken to get the county committee approval for the overpass.

He informed Mrs. Kennedy that he was contacting other agencies to see if they would be interested in financially helping. He received the go ahead signal from the council.

Councilman Charlie Rose said that he felt that in the long run the city would be forced to go ahead by itself and that it could only be financed by a bond issue.

But Monday night a motion by Councilman Charlie Rose for the city to begin proceedings to purchase the property lost for want of a second. Rose also had made the motion to deny the used-car plans.

A motion, however, by Councilman Homer Hyde that the staff be directed to investigate all the ramifications involved in acquiring the property, especially as it would be affected by the widening of Winchester, passed unanimously.

Residents of Alice Ave. were again out in force at the City Council meeting, as they had been on previous occasions. They repeated their arguments that such an operation would detract from the residential aspects of their street.

Fire Chief George Maxwell has been presented with an Honorary Life Membership by the Campbell High School P.T.A., for "his outstanding efforts in providing our community with a modern, effective department that serves to protect and educate our community in matters of fire and fire protection."

Maxwell was also honored for "his dedicated efforts in related community affairs."

In the citation accompanying the award, the P.T.A. said:

"As chief of the Campbell Fire Department since 1958, George Maxwell has brought the department up to an efficient, highly organized department that has gained state and national recognition. In 1960, the Department received Honorable Mention in the State of California for its Fire Prevention Program. In 1962, it received 12th place nationally and first place in the State. In 1963, it ranked 19th in the nation and again received Honorable Mention in the State, and in 1964 Honorable Mention in the United States and the State of California. In 1965, the long coveted goal was finally achieved--the Grand Award, first place in the United States for all cities of all sizes in the National Fire Prevention activities."

He was also commended for his role as president of the Santa Clara County Fire Chiefs' Association.

Maxwell is married and has two daughters, one of whom has graduated from Campbell High School. He has been active in service clubs, the YMCA, and many other community projects.

Senior balls are planned - Camden slates hootenanny

Campbell Crier

by DAVE TURNER

The senior class seems to have some type of monopoly over the news this week. Everything of importance involves seniors directly.

The formal Senior Ball will be a dinner dance, the first such ball in Campbell's history, at Marianni's in Sunnyvale. The theme for the gala event, coming up on March 3, is "Memoirs Cherie", which is French for "Cherished Memories." A prime rib dinner, music by Johnny Vaughn and all the evening's promised fun and memories are included in the $13 bid.

The annual all school play is going to be a musical comedy. Roles have already been cast and rehearsals are being held for "The Boy Friend", which will be presented around the middle of March.

Results are back from the Scholastic Aptitude Test, the one which determines semi-finalists for California State Scholarships, and the class of '67 has glorified the name of Campbell High School again.

A record-shattering 25 seniors were named semi-finalists in the competition. Previously the high was 18.

No matter whether a student is a senior, junior, sophomore, or freshman, passing or failing, he'll be happy about one thing next week: due to Lincoln's birthday falling on Sunday, Monday Feb. 13 will be recognized as a legal holiday, and classes will be dismissed.

The romantic atmosphere of the Los Altos Hills Country Club will be the scene of Westmont's third annual Senior Ball, "Somewhere My Love," on Feb. 25 from 8 to 12 p.m.

This year's ball will be different from the previous years, as it will be a dinner dance. All those attending the ball will meet at 7 p.m. for a prime rib dinner. At 8:30, The Johnny Vaughn Orchestra will start the music for the evening.

Results are in for the class elections held Feb. 3. Senior class honors went to Mark Jansen, Ric Barline, Carla Crownover, and Mike Graham-Armstrong as president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively.

Taking over Freshman class administrations are Dan Stroboll president, Lynette Pietrobono, vice-president, Debbie Miller, secretary, and Sue Smith, treasurer.

While these people were busy campaigning for class offices, others were trying out for this year's first annual all school musical, "Pajama Game." The male lead went to Bob Gunter, a senior, who will play the part of Sid Shroken, the manager of a pajama factory. Sid's ex-girlfriend, Babe Williams, will be played by Jan Zahner. Pajama Game will be presented in the early part of April.

Vince Edson, an English teacher here at Westmont, gave talks last week in the Senior Government classes on his experiences as a freedom school teacher in the south last summer. This was part of LIFE MEMBER--Mrs. Russell Rinauro—Mrs. Russell Rinauro, (left) 12827 Lantana Dr., Saratoga, president of Westmont High School P.T.A., was presented an Honorary Life Membership for her outstanding service to P.T.A. and the community.

Making the presentation is Mrs. Daniel Jones, honorary life membership chairman. Mrs. Rinauro has been active in P.T.A. for many years, and has also served in the Scouting program.

the government classes unit on civil rights.

The Warrior Wrestling team took the league championship with a no loss record for the second straight year. This runs the string to 19 consecutive dual meet wins. Congratulations to the boys and especially to their coach, Jim Root.

Basketball has had its up and downs, losing three straight, then winning one, then losing again. Roy Grillo remains high point man, with Bruce Anderson second.

Spring sports are now under way. Coach Bill Campbell hopes that the track squad can run to another first place. Bruce Samples is coaching the baseball squad to a possible pennant. Splashing towards a good season are the swimmers coached by Bill Zirzow. Junior Morgan hopes that Tom Sutton can lead the tennis team toward a winning season, the first in two years.

Camden Chatter

by JAN LOWDEN

John Robinson, Camden junior, is one of the 66 students selected for a special Saturday morning course at the University of Santa Clara.

The course is computer programming and applications will help students to decide whether they are interested in a future in mathematics. The classes will continue for eight weeks.

CLASS RINGS ORDERED: Camden sophomores went through the process of ordering their class rings.

The anxiously awaited rings should arrive sometime before the end of the school year.

HOOTENANNY COMING: Tryouts for the Hootenanny being held March 17 will be held in the Camden Cafeteria on Feb. 22 and 23.

Several groups will be chosen to play. No electrical instruments will be allowed for the event which will be mostly "Folk" music.

Senior, Dave Sugarman is chairman of the Hootenanny.

HOMEMAKER IS CHOSEN: Camden senior, Suzy Young, is the winner of the Homemaker of Tomorrow contest for Camden. The test which was held Dec. 6, was open to any Senior girl. The purpose was to emphasize the importance of home-making as a career.

Suzy is now eligible for possible state and national scholarship awards.

COUGARS DUMP DONS: The Cougars shocked many people Tuesday, Jan. 31, as they downed Del Mar Dons 75-71. This game proved to be one of the best games of the year as the Dons were undefeated in league play.

The Cougars held a short lead throughout the first and second quarters, but the half ended in a tie 29-29.

The beginning of the third quarter saw the Dons 16 points ahead of the Cougars. With only two seconds left Rich Troedson, Camden junior, twisted up a shot that was good just as the buzzer rang to end the regular game at a 63-63 tie.

The overtime period started with both teams scoring until the Cougars pulled ahead to win the game 75-71.

The following Tuesday the Cougars upset Leigh as The Cougars won that game. Last Friday the Cougars were upset as they lost to the Wildcats 56-50.

Funds from district dance aids Little League

Proceeds from the pre-season dance open to the public next Saturday, Feb. 18, at the

SES Hall in Santa Clara will help defray expenses of District 44, which administers and coordinates the 16 separate Little Leagues in the Santa Clara Valley.

Donations are $5 per couple and District 44 officers urge all who are interested in assisting in this youth program to attend the function. All district officials as well as those in the individual league are volunteers.

Refreshments will be served at the dance and many prizes will be offered.

Campbell, Moreland, and Quito are part of District 44.

Hank Mestice, 3300 Payne Ave., San Jose, is president of the Campbell Little League; Bud Christensen, of 1383 Wylie Way, San Jose, heads the Moreland league and Jim Thompson, 18253 Vanderbilt, Saratoga, is president of the Quito league.

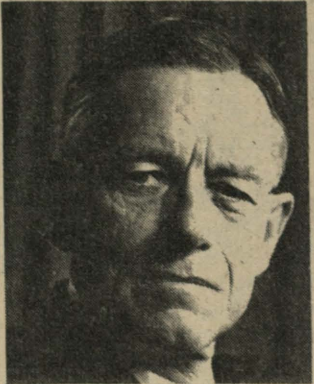

Jack E. Lopes, District 44 official, has also announced that Larry Ponza will demonstrate his pitching machine for about five hours this Saturday, Feb. 18 and also the following Saturday in conjunction with the Moreland Little League tryouts at the George Payne School at Piland and Gleason in San Jose.

All interested Little League participants are invited to attend the free exhibition.

Local man is named to civil defense staff

County Executive Howard W. Campen has announced the addition of two new assistants to his Civil Defense staff to work directly under CD coordinator Frank E. Holt. The appointments were effective Wednesday, Feb. 1. Richard C. Mitchell of San Jose and B.E. Small of Campbell have been appointed Assistant Civil Defense Coordinators at a starting salary of $679 per month.

Mitchell, comes to County Service from the Stephen Chelbay Co. of San Jose, where he was group insurance consultant. He resides at 2869 Lansford Ave., San Jose.

B.E. SMALL

Small, 59-year-old retired Army colonel, has served as emergency operations planner with the California Disaster Office in Sacramento for the past two and a half years. A native of Port Townsend, Washington, Small attended San Diego State College.

During his thirty-year service career, Small rose to the rank of colonel, commanded units in the Far Eastern Theatre during World War II, and was awarded the Bronze Star and Army Commendation Medal. He lives with his wife at 158 Coventry Dr., in Campbell and has five children.

ALL FOR ONE--Four members of the Board of Trustees of West Valley College clasp hands in unity as they announce their candidacies for new four-year terms on the board, in the April 18 election. Left to right, they are: Robert A.

Sorensen, Robert J. Brydon, board chairman, Donald E. Lindstrom, board clerk, and William J. Homan.

Navy corpsman, David Northup dies in action

Military services were held at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno for David M. Northup, 25, killed in action in Vietnam on Feb. 1. Northup, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Northup of 96 LaVonne Dr., Campbell was a Naval Medical Corpsman serving with M Company, 3rd Bn. 1st Marine Division.

A former San Jose State College student, Northup was scheduled for discharge from the Navy in August, but instead volunteered to go to Vietnam. According to his parents, he was aware of the nature of the war through his service in Navy and Marine Corps hospitals in the Philippines. He had served in Vietnam for less than a month. He was a native of Omaha.

DAVID M. NORTHUP

Survivors in addition to his parents, include a sister, Mrs. Robert Bridwell of Lawton, Oklahoma and a brother, Edward S. Northup, Jr., a Santa Clara University student.

Mangus, 867 S. Genevieve Lane, San Jose, has arrived in Vietnam with his unit, the 9th Infantry Division. His wife, Lynette, lives at 906 Dry Creek Rd., Campbell.

Pacific Telephone asks for increase in rates

Following its earlier announcement of a "desperate need" for improved earnings, Pacific Telephone has asked the California Public Utilities Commission for permission to increase its rates.

In an application filed with the Commission, the company proposed increases totaling $158 million in gross annual revenues for basic residence and business exchange and message unit rates.

In addition, the company asked for increased charges totaling $23 million annually for telephone directory "Yellow Pages" advertising, which would become effective over a two-year period as new directories are issued.

If approved by the Commission, one-party rates for all residence customers in Santa Clara County, with one exception, would increase from $3.90 to $5.75 per month. The exception is San Martin where one-party residence rates would increase from $3.70 to $4.50 per month. Business one-party message rate service, except for San Martin where it is not offered, would increase from $4.10 to $8 per month with an allowance for 85 messages. Message unit rates would increase from 4.05 cents to 4.85 cents per unit.

The new rates would be "among the lowest in the 25 largest cities in the United States," the company's application said.

Public Health agency surveys hospital needs

Statistics from three area hospitals are being compiled during the first quarter of 1967, to be analyzed by the California Health Information for Planning Service (CHIPS) in a two-year study which may result in establishment of a statewide information service for hospital planning.

The three hospitals, chosen for their varying sizes, are: The Santa Clara Valley Medical Center, over 500 beds; The Good Samaritan Hospital of Santa Clara Valley, 227; and Campbell Community Hospital, 48.

CHIPS is a part of the State of California Department of Public Health, established because of the need to have information available to assist health facility planners in arriving at more accurate determinations of the locations which need hospital beds and services. The current study is being Federally funded.

It is anticipated that such an information service can supply, by means of computer memory files, a variety of information for planning on state, regional, area and individual institution levels.

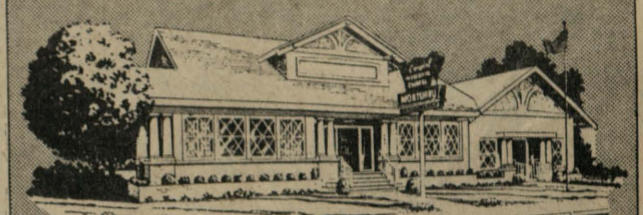

HOSPITAL STUDY--Elton Admire, Administrator of Campbell Community Hospital, works with administrators of two other hospitals, in setting up statistical information systems to be used in hospital planning. The other two are Floyd A. Sorensen of The Good Samaritan Hospital of Santa Clara Valley (center) and Frederic LeRocker of Santa Clara Valley Medical Center.

1 YEAR AGO

Bill Oltmann, Campbell public accountant and treasurer of the C. of C. won the first "ambassador-of-the-year" award at the annual installation dinner-dance of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce last Thursday night at Villa Felice.

Installation of synchronized traffic signals on Winchester Blvd. from Campbell

Ave. to Budd during the next fiscal year was given the green light by the City Council Monday night. The project is estimated to cost $20,000.

Two incumbent councilmen, Ralph Doetsch, 51, and Homer Hyde, 48, announced this week that they will seek reelection to the City Council in the April 12 city election. There are two positions open on the council.

5 YEARS AGO

There hadn't been so much excitement in Campbell since the lumber yard burned down. It was snowing in Campbell! Telephones started ringing early Sunday morning and kept up all day as stimulated youngsters called one another to tell them the news--and Campbell adults in turn called home to eastern relatives to tell them the news.

During the city council meeting Monday a letter from Chamber of Commerce president W.B. Strohm was read notifying the council that the chamber plans to discontinue the Old Settlers' Parade and suggesting maybe another organization could carry on a smaller scale.

Another tree problem was aired at the council meeting, last Monday night. Due to the traffic hazard, Councilman Peter Lico suggested that the large walnut tree at the corner of E. Campbell Ave. and Harrison Ave. be removed.

10 YEARS AGO

Representing only those sales which were reported on October tax returns, the City of Campbell this week received $1,801.34 from the State Board of Equalization. This check marked the first income to be received from the city sales tax which went into effect on Oct. 1, 1956.

A recently conducted public opinion survey has indicated that more than 80 per cent of the residents of six Bay Area counties (including Santa Clara County), may favor construction of a regional rapid transit system.

Information on homeowners' tax bills no longer will be given over the telephone,

County Tax Collector Roy Emerson reported this week. "It's gotten to be too big a job," he said. "We just don't have the personnel."

15 YEARS AGO

Five persons have taken out candidate filing petitions for the office of city councilman and one for the office of city treasurer for the coming incorporation and city officials election scheduled for March 11. Those taking out petitions for city councilman are Paul Johnson, L.W. Harmon, Leslie Kerr, Anthony Raffanti and Miss Carolyn Coons. E.C. Merrill has taken out a petition for the office of city treasurer.

The present trend toward stepping up national production for defense will mean an increasingly smaller supply of major appliances for the American consumer during 1952, according to J.W. Shmidl, of Shmidl and Hammer.

Martin S. Walsh, chairman of the Old Settlers' Day committee, announced this week that "Welcome to Campbell" has been chosen as the theme for the 58th annual celebration.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

One of the reasons some Americans are dubious about our policy in Vietnam is their frustration at not being able to secure information in which they have confidence.

The Administration has been accused of news manipulation and to some extent this is true. On the other hand, some information has been withheld because it might prove valuable to the enemy. The present tendency is to err on the side of safety, to overclassify, and withhold more information than is necessary.

The recent articles by Harrison Salisbury, assistant managing editor of the NEW YORK TIMES, which began on Christmas Day have created an impact far beyond their importance considering that they were mostly rehashes of communist propaganda handouts almost two months old. Salisbury was the first American journalist admitted to North Vietnam, but as Walter Lippman has said, his statements were news only because they were published in the TIMES.

The first TIMES report concerned a U.S. raid against civilians at Nam-Dinh and carried non-attributed statements and statistics provided by the communists in early November. Contrary to what Salisbury reported, the United States had named military targets in Nam-Dinh as early as last spring. These targets adjoined the civilian installations about which Salisbury wrote.

Early in November the North Vietnamese Ambassador to Russia released a twelve page "Report on U.S. War Crimes in Nam-Dinh City" dated October, 1966. This document was handed to U.S. reporters in Moscow including those of the NEW YORK TIMES.

They apparently disregarded it and took it for exactly what it is: communist propaganda. But about two months later Salisbury reported: "Almost every house on the street was blasted down on April 14 at about 6:30 a.m. just as the factory shifts were changing. Forty-nine people were killed, 135 were wounded, ... and 240 houses collapsed. Eight bombs -- MK-84's -- accomplished this."

The communist propaganda report described the raid as follows: "At 6:30 a.m. when those who had just come back from a night shift were still sleeping... two U.S. planes... dropped eight MK-84 bombs, killing 49 people... wounding 135 people, and destroying 240 houses..."

In other accounts written by Mr. Salisbury, the communist report was followed just as precisely as in the above instance.

The twelve page communist handout had been freely circulated in Moscow, and the Pentagon had a copy. But for some reason it was classified "secret" and not released. If the charges it contained had been answered openly and frankly in November, Salisbury's rehash of an out-of-date communist handout would have lost its effectiveness before it was written. Now because it appears that the Administration had something to hide, many believe the implications of Salisbury's story and think this nation is wantonly bombing noncombatants. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Our Defense Department could profit from the lesson contained in this incident--Truth concealed appears as falsity revealed.

College extends new business seminar class

Response to the West Valley College business management seminar beginning Wednesday, Feb. 15 on the temporary Campbell campus has been so enthusiastic that a second eight-week section has been added beginning Thursday, Feb. 16 and continuing weekly through April 13.

A few openings remain in this second section, according to William Deal, director of community services.

Those interested should make application to his office and accompany their request with a $25 check. The seminars will be presented in cooperation with the United States Small Business Administration, and will consist of a series of eight conferences, presenting outstanding information ideas for increased profits for small business.

At each conference, practical management techniques will be presented in informal manner by experienced leaders in the various fields of business involved, to be followed by discussion periods.

Also, at each session, up-to-date "Management Aids" will be distributed and discussed.

The schedule of seminars follows:

Wednesday, Feb. 15, "How To Make Communications Contribute to the Success of Your Business," conducted by Joseph Robinson, president, Robinson Associates, San Francisco.

Wednesday, Feb. 22, a seminar on organizing the owner-manager's job, "Planning Your Actions Rather Than Reacting to Conditions as They Occur," conducted by Earl D. Brodie, management consultant, San Francisco.

Wednesday, March 1, a seminar on creative selling, "The Art of Being Different," conducted by Herbert Baum, general agent, Franklin Life Insurance Company, Modesto.

Wednesday, March 8, will deal with developing your marketing strategy - make your business grow, "Who Are Your Customers? Why Do They Buy?" by Raymond Loen, management consultant, San Anselmo.

Wednesday, March 15, the seminar will be "Hiring, Training and Motivating Personnel," by Steven Brandt, vice-president, Loen, Brandt Consultants, Inc., Palo Alto.

Wednesday, March 29, "Are You Kidding Yourself About Your Profits?" by J.H. Feller, management consultant, San Anselmo.

Wednesday, April 5, "Working Capital - Getting It, Using It and Maintaining It," by Bert E. Calvin, managing associate, Calvin & Co., Inc., San Francisco.

Wednesday, April 12, will be a dinner meeting and seminar conducted by Robert Strauss, regional director of the U.S. Small Business Administration in San Francisco. His topic will be "Planning For the Future - Where Do We Go From Here?"

This final meeting will be a dinner meeting and certificates of completion of the seminar will be presented by Dr. Wallace W. Hall, superintendent - president of West Valley College in the name of West Valley College and the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Lewis E. Dreyfous of the Business Division of West Valley College is coordinator of this series.

Participation in the seminar will be limited to 30 persons, and a registration fee of $25 will be required. This fee will include the cost of publications to be distributed and explained at each meeting and the dinner meeting.

For further information call the College's Office of Community Services, 379-1733, Ext. 48.

PREVAILING WAGE RATES

Pursuant to the provisions of the Labor Code, the Board of Supervisors has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages and employer payments for health and welfare, vacation, pension and similar purposes in the County in which the work is to be done to be as hereinafter set forth and more completely set forth in the specification documents sometimes referred to as Exhibit A.

Copies of all collective bargaining agreements relating to the work to be performed as set forth in the aforementioned Labor Code containing information relating to wages, fringe benefits, subsistence, and travel pay are on file and are available for inspection in the offices of the Division of Labor Statistics and Research of the Department of Industrial Relations.

Employer payments other than those herein-after itemized, as defined in Section 1773.1 of the Labor Code, are to be paid in accordance with the terms of the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the type or classification of the workmen or mechanics employed on the project.

The following shall govern as to overtime and Sunday or Holiday work: overtime work--not less than one and one-half (1 1/2) times the basic hourly rate plus applicable employer payments; Sunday and Holiday work--not less than one and one-half (1 1/2) times the basic hourly rate plus applicable employer payments. The holidays upon which such rates shall be paid shall be all holidays recognized in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the particular craft, classification or type of workmen employed on the project.

Service Club formulates plans for fashion show

Plans for the Women's Service Club luncheon and fashion show to be held on March 2 at the Methodist Church in Campbell are well under way according to Mrs. Jack Shirley, general chairman.

George Flood will play background organ music during the afternoon. He has played at various piano bars in the area and in his late teens played at the Fox Theatre in San Jose.

The soloist will be Miss Cathy Huntsinger, a music major at San Jose State College. She is a member of the cappella choir and the choralliers, and has taken leading roles in several musicals. Cathy will sing selections from light operas and will be accompanied by her mother.

The styles will come from Leone Van Arys-dale Fashions. Mrs. Paul M. Ryden will be the commentator. She was at one time the hostess on channel 11 radio "Afterno on Show". She is active in church and community affairs.

The cosmetology department of San Jose

City College will do the make-up and hair styles.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. E.R. Miller 269-9602 or Mrs. Herbert Binley, 378-2586 or any member of the club.

Open meeting for cancer volunteers

The Campbell Chapter of the American Cancer Society is greatly in need of volunteers to aid in the presentation of their program. All interested persons are invited to attend an open meeting on Monday, Feb. 20 to discuss the opportunities for programs in the Campbell area. The meeting will be held in the Fireside Room of the Congregational Church of Campbell, 400 W. Campbell. Volunteers are needed in education, service, public information and fund raising. The job of bringing information to the public is just one part of the education program of the American Cancer Society.

BENEFIT FASHION SHOW--Mrs. Howard Lillingston, 774 Old Orchard Rd. is telling Richard Ganzert about the luncheon and fashion show, "Blossom Time" sponsored by the Pilot Club of San Jose to be held Saturday, Feb. 18, at the Los Gatos Elks Club. Proceeds from the show will go to the American Cancer Society of Santa Clara County. Mrs. Lillingston is service chairman for AGS in Campbell and also vice-president of the Pilot Club, a business women's organization.

Historical Club sponsors art show

Paintings of Campbell homes, people and articles of the past, 50 years or older, are to be the subject for West Valley Historical Society's first art show. All Santa Clara Valley artists are invited to enter.

Oils, watercolors, acrylic, graphic and mixed media are eligible. A brief history of the subject must accompany the art work. Entries will be accepted at the St.

Lawrence Episcopal Church, 65 W. Rincon Ave., Campbell, beginning June 3. The pictures will be displayed throughout Campbell. There will be ribbons and cash awards.

For further information telephone Jacqueline Fliccraft, 264-9395 or Regina Greenleaf, 378-3745.

Adventists have meet in Fresno

The 12th Quadrennial Constituency Session of the Pacific Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists was held at the Del Webb Towne House in Fresno.

Eight local men were appointed delegates from Campbell: Clyde C. Groomer, Ben W. Mattison, John S. McIntosh, Harvey Retzer, D. G. Sather, Max C. Torkelsen, Robert L. Vaughan, and Elmer Walde. Election of officers, reports of committee chairmen, and plans to promote church growth.

Lenten series on "The Cross"

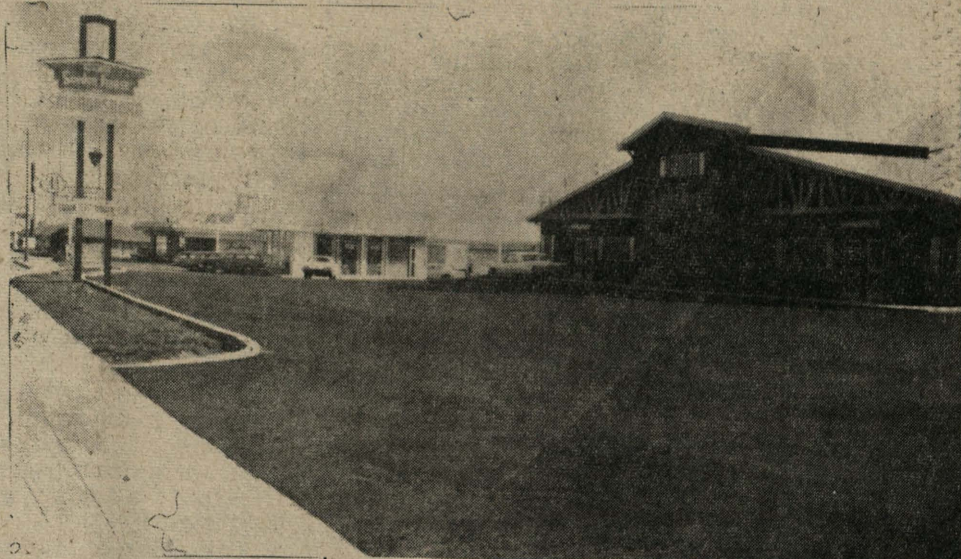

A Lenten series on the cross will be the theme of sermons for the next six weeks at the Congregational Church of Campbell, 400 W. Campbell Ave.

The Rev. Anthony Wayne Myers, minister of the Campbell church, will preach the series which has to do with suffering as it is treated throughout the Bible. The studies of the tragic theme will be given in preparation for Easter.

Worship services and church school are held from 10 a.m. to 11:15 a.m.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF FILING APPLICATION FOR INCREASES AND DECREASES FOR INTRA-STATE TELEPHONE RATES

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company on February 10, 1967, filed with the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California an application, numbered 49142, for authority to increase and decrease certain intrastate rates and charges applicable to telephone service furnished within the State of California. In general terms, the proposed increases and decreases are as follows:

Exchanges in the San Francisco-East Bay, Los Angeles, San Diego and Orange County extended areas would receive increases resulting from the application of a uniform set of basic exchange rates for residence and business service. The increases, on the average, amount to about $1.50 per month per main residence telephone and $3.50 per month per main business telephone. Message unit allowances would be standardized at 30 for 2-party line message rate residence service, with a decrease in the basic monthly charge for this service, and 85 for message rate business lines. The message unit charge would be increased from $.0405 to $.0485.

For exchanges located outside the San Francisco-East Bay, Los Angeles, San Diego and Orange County extended areas, increases and decreases in basic exchange residence and business rates result from the application of an increased and graduated scale of rates based on the size of the exchange and whether or not extended area service is offered in the exchange. In most instances there would be an increase in rates which, on the average, would amount to about 50 cents per month per main residence telephone, and about $.00 per month per main business telephone.

In all exchanges the service connection charge for residence would be increased from $8.50 to $10.00.

For directory advertising, increases would result from an increase in the number of circulation rate groups, a change in the method of determining circulation rate groups, and an increase in the level of rates within the new rate groups.

Key telephone rates would be increased. At the same time, rates for this service would be packaged and simplified. There are also increases in the rates for Centrex stations, a wide range of miscellaneous equipment services, intra-exchange private line channels, and certain features of public mobile telephone service.

Changes in various charges for certain toll private line IX 30 baud channels would decrease the rates for these services.

The total increases are estimated to amount to $181,356,000.

These increases are proposed to become effective upon grant of authority therefore by the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California and in various counties and municipal corporations therein, including the county of Santa Clara and the city of Campbell. The State of California and the counties and municipal corporations which may be interested in the application may obtain a copy thereof from the applicant upon request directed to:

G.L. Turreto, Assistant Vice-President The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company 140 New Montgomery Street, Room 1626 San Francisco, California 94105

A copy of the application may be inspected by any interested person in the office of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company at 190 North 5th

San Jose, California 95112 and in the offices of the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California, fifth floor, State Building, Civic Center, San Francisco, California, and State Building, 107 South Broadway, Los Angeles, California.

College board approves new building

The Board of Trustees of West Valley College last Thursday night approved preliminary plans for the second building to be erected on the Saratoga campus--the Science-mathematics building.

The board had previously authorized proceeding with plans for the first building, the engineering-technology building, and these plans are now being checked by the state.

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, reported to the board that the new state budget includes a proposed allocation of $785,175 as the state's share toward the total estimated cost of $1,800,000.

The state figure is down from the $825,703 originally designated as its share, Dr. Hall said.

Action by the board on the science-mathematics building came after a slide-film display on the 50,000 square-foot structure had been presented by John Lyon Reid, of the district's architectural firm of Reid and Tarrics.

In the same action, the board authorized the architects to proceed with the development of final working drawings and specifications for the building as soon as possible.

The board also heard a progress report on the engineering-technology building, which indicated that the plans for that structure should be returned from the state by March 1. The building should go to bid by March 15, with bid opening on May 1 and construction to start on May 15. Estimated construction time is 14 months, with completion set for July 1, 1968. The building should then be ready for occupancy in time for the fall, 1968 school year.

Dr. Hall also reported that new registration figures for the spring semester continue to run about 25 per cent ahead of the same figures last year. To date, 3351 day students and 2389 extended day students have registered, for a total of 5740. On the same date last year, 2629 day and 1921 extended day students had been checked in, for a total of 4550.

The board also passed two resolutions pertaining to the current issue of tuition fees and budget cuts at the University of California and the State College system.

The first, passed unanimously, warned of the "devastating effect" of increased enrollment at West Valley College and other California junior colleges, resulting from imposition of tuition fees, and the proposed budget reductions for the University and the state colleges.

The second resolution, adopted by a 4-3 vote, deplored the proposal to abandon the "tuition-free philosophy" by the State of California in its university and state college systems.

Eagles organize chapter here
